

Kitchen Designer and Salesperson

Our client has two state-of-the-art show rooms in Cincinnati and one in Dayton. These showrooms have a breadth of cabinets not seen – high to low end cabinets of multiple varieties. They offer the best products on the market for the most competitive prices.

One of the largest and most successful cabinet and window companies in the area. We offer full benefits and a flexible work environment.

Looking to hire a Kitchen Designer to help expand our business. This person will be responsible for bringing in new builders and contractors as well as selling and designing solutions in the retail space.

Must have design experience. Construction experience is a plus. Must be able to sell and build new accounts.

Draw to 50k plus commission potential to 100k for top producers. Commission structure is above average but they want someone who can bring at least a couple builders or contractors over ideally. Must be open to selling and opening new accounts. Must also be able utilize 2020 software to design kitchen and bath solutions for customers.
